Pressing on, Boldly!

Ten years ago, October 2003, Jan Paulsen, president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists at that time, flipped the switch that officially launched Hope Channel.

It's been ten exciting years of miracles! I remember someone on our technical team asking me back then, "How many channels should we plan for?"

Giving the question some serious thought and prayer, I answered, "Maybe two or three."

Looking back, I am struck by my lack of faith and vision. We've been hanging on by our fingertips as God has explosively added channels to this global network—South America, Romania, Germany, Africa, Asia, Middle East, India, China. As of August 2013 we have fifteen satellite channels and six Internet channels broadcasting full time in more than twenty languages around the world.

With a creative team of almost 1000 spread across the continents, Hope Channel is taking the message of Adventist faith and lifestyle to everyone. Never before has God's church had a global television network as extensive and pervasive as this.

The last ten years have been an affirmation of God's leading. God is not only the God of the past, but also the God of the future. What He has wrought in the past is our foundation, an assurance of greater things He will do. With that knowledge, we must press on boldly!

At the risk of displaying a lack of faith and vision yet again, here's what I see in the coming ten years (Of course, the preferable scenario is that Jesus returns by then).

- Improve quality of our programming. By continuing to raise the bar of excellence in programming, we will attract more viewers. We are committed to making Hope Channel the premier global Christian channel. The more we improve our programming, the greater our impact will be.

- Expand our distribution. While we are carried on hundreds of cable networks and television stations, we believe that God has only just begun. Our channels need wider reach in the local markets they serve. With all the options, people can only be blessed when they watch Hope Channel. We need to help everyone, everywhere have an opportunity to experience Hope Channel.

- Be available on all platforms. To attract viewers of varied demographics, Hope Channel needs to be available on every device people use to watch television. Increasingly, one's first point of contact to a show is through a smart phone, tablet, or another wireless device. The Hope Channel app meets this need and will be enhanced to make it more accessible and user-friendly.

- Link the local church and Hope Channel. Accounting for more than 2.5 million baptisms, Hope Channel's predecessor, the NET satellite evangelistic events, has proven that television programming can link the viewer to the local church.

We want to strengthen the contribution Hope Channel makes to local church evangelism.

- Add more new channels. Right now we have new channels developing in Indonesia and countries in Africa. As God opens the way, who knows where Hope Channel's reach will be another ten years from now!

I want to thank you for your prayers and financial support throughout the past ten years. God has used you and our dedicated global team to make this amazing growth and gospel influence possible.

Please continue to pray daily for the television ministry that takes the gospel light to millions everywhere. Let's continue to press on boldly!

Your friend,

Brad Thorp

What Viewers are Saying

I'm glad I can watch Hope Channel in Doha. Your prayers and programs are changing lives over here.

—Anonymous, Qatar

I'm happy I get Hope Channel at home and also in my office.

—William, Tanzania

After I found a loving relationship with Jesus on Hope Channel, I have learned to thank God for even the simple things and to live life without fear.

—Anonymous, Philippines

You guys rock! I'm saved because of Hope Channel shows.

—Mark, Nairobi

While visiting Istanbul, I found Hope Channel. Ever since, I've been watching your programs ever since.

—Xavier, Romania

I would like to thank you for your programs. I'm now a changed person. I know things I did not know before and live a very different life. I feel truly blessed.

—Tabani, South Africa

I never knew Christian television could be so inspiring. Hope Channel is a big blessing and I wish every home in my country could have access to Hope Channel.

—Morris, Uganda

I hadn't seen good Christian programming before I discovered Hope Channel. I now practice what I learn and have found an Adventist Church community with whom I worship.

Meet Our Viewers

Gabriel

In the pampas of Rio Grande do Sul, Gabriel lives with his parents in one of the many stretches of farmland. Here life also stretches—from sunrise to sunset in a never-ending cycle of boring routine. It's not quite the life a teenager would wish for himself. Yet this was Gabriel's lot. Every day was the same—helping his parents with the animals and the field, with only his phone as his companion.

One day he found Novo Tempo (Hope Channel Brazil) on his phone. The programs broke the monotony of his day. That evening he found Novo Tempo on the family television and invited his parents to watch with him. Soon, the entire family was working on the Bible study course offered by Novo Tempo.

"The day I found Novo Tempo was the beginning of many changes in my family," says Gabriel. "I now have a personal relationship with God that grows more and more intimate every day. But the biggest blessing is the change in my mother."

For years his mother, Alda, found no joy in life, no desire for food, and no need to be active in the lives of her family members. But after watching Novo Tempo with the family every evening, she began to feel her depression give way to purpose, happiness, and home.

When Novo Tempo broke the sad, monotonous cycle in Gabriel's home, word got around to the neighboring farms. Today more and more lives in the fertile slopes of southern Brazil are enriched by the message of hope they find in Novo Tempo.

Dr. Liliana is a physician and manager at the Neuromotor Recovery Hospital in Bucharest. She enjoyed listening to Radio Voice of Hope while working. In fact, she left her radio on for patients and their families to listen too.

Hearing the radio over the hospital audio system one day, a patient told her that he was the producer of Radio Voice of Hope and of a television station called Hope Channel Romania. Excited to meet someone from her favorite radio station, Liliana was anxious to learn more about the television programs he produced.

The more she watched Hope Channel Romania, the more she wanted to share its message with others. So she bought several television sets and placed them all over the hospital. Now patients and their families get to watch Hope Channel every time they visit the Neuromotor Recovery Hospital.

She kept in touch with her producer patient who introduced her to a local Seventh-day Adventist church. Liliana and her family began attending church regularly and changing their lifestyle because of things they learned on Hope Channel Romania. In September 2013 Liliana and her husband joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church and have become ardent supporters of Hope Channel Romania. You can find Liliana on air giving medical advice and telling the story of her changed life.

Sandra and Viorel

Years ago, Viorel and Sandra moved from Romania to Rome. But even though Rome was now their home, they missed Romania.

So they watched Romanian television programs, listened to Romanian radio stations, and were always on the lookout for more Romanian shows. In their search, they found Hope Channel Romania and added it to their list of shows. It wasn't long before Hope Channel Romania became one of their favorites.

During an especially difficult time in their lives, Sandra reached out to Hope Channel Romania, looking for support, comfort, and answers to get her family through their situation. She was surprised to get a quick response that was not only comforting and helpful, but also had the contact information for the pastor of a Romanian Seventh-day Adventist church right there in Rome.

Sandra and Viorel were thrilled to discover that there was a church close to them that worshipped in their language. Plus, it was not a small church; there were about a thousand other people of Romanian ancestry who worshipped there!

Shortly after, Sandra and Viorel were baptized members of the Romanian Seventh-day Adventist Church in Rome, where they found a community of friends who made them feel at home.

Moving Forward in Faith

The world of television broadcasting was new for everyone on our team, but the need we perceived in our area for God's good news simply could not be overlooked. So we moved forward with limited resources but with plenty of faith.

We began producing programs in the Ukraine in 2009. We started with 319 episodes our first year. By 2012, we were producing more than 1000. This drastic increase made it very clear to us that we needed to find a way to venture into satellite broadcast. Reaching all of the Ukraine was our priority; however we wanted a satellite service that would cover all the post-Soviet countries too.

The Astra 4A satellite proved to be most suited for our needs. With it, we launched satellite broadcast in March 2013 with 36 original shows and a weekly live show of a worship service at one of the largest churches in Kiev.

With the Astra 4A, not only are our programs accessible to 90 percent of the homes in Ukraine, but we also reach other countries such as western Russia, Belorussia, Moldova, Georgia, and Poland. Letters and emails from viewers outside of Ukraine are an affirmation that the Astra 4A was a blessed decision.

Hope Channel is a viewer-supported television network. How much we have grown and expanded in the last ten years is because of the prayers and financial contributions of our viewers.

We asked some of our supporters what inspires them to give. Here's what they said.

I support Hope Channel because sharing the gospel is what God commissioned us to do. I love to hear how Hope Channel is constantly expanding across the world. I believe that it's only through television that we can get God's message out quickly. I have personally heard testimonies from India and other parts of the world about the positive influence of Hope Channel. I am moved by what is happening at Hope Channel. —Vaagal, Silver Spring, MD

My father loved the Lord very much. During the last few years of his life, all he watched was Hope Channel, and it brought him closer to God. I know you are doing the same for millions of others. —Diana, Altamonte Springs, FL

I give to Hope Channel because I want the gospel to be shared with the entire world. I want Jesus to come back in my generation. I'm 81 years old, and we need to finish the work. We need to keep moving forward. —Robert, Mount Vernon, OH

WHAT Inspires? YOU TO GIVE ●

I am inspired to give to Hope Channel because I believe in televangelism. I feel television and radio are the only tools to reach the world. There are so many unreached areas in the world that only Hope Channel can break through.

I encourage others to give as they can. The more we support generously, the sooner Jesus can come. —Kerry, Orlando, FL

God commanded us to spread the message to every tongue and every nation. If you have the ability to help and God calls you to do it, then let His will be done. Monetary support is part of a life of service. I encourage you to support Hope Channel so we can get the work done.

—William, Alberta, Canada

Hope Channel has been such a blessing to me. I have grown spiritually watching Hope Sabbath School and Amazing Discoveries. I am so grateful that the Word of God is presented in a way that is honorable to Him. Because of your programming, I know that I am loved by God and have peace in my heart. I support Hope Channel because I want others to experience what I have. —Bob, Newark, NJ

We love what Hope Channel is doing! Hope Channel is sharing the gospel in places where people cannot go. We are glad to be a part of a ministry that has a passion for sharing the gospel. —Bonnie, Burtonsville, MD

Hope Channel is doing a terrific job. I have watched the programs over the years and they have been a blessing. I especially enjoy Fridays with Amazing Discoveries and Doug Batchelor. My donations to Hope Channel are a way I acknowledge my blessings. —Paul, College Place, WA

Hope Sabbath School has been such a great resource for me. I share Hope Channel so that many others can have the same resource. I've been pretty lonely since my wife passed away, but Hope Channel gives me encouragement that Jesus is coming soon. I am a Hope Channel supporter because I believe in its programming.

—Wallace, Damascus, OR

Every time I hear about a new Hope Channel station somewhere in the world, I get so excited! It is such a privilege to support a ministry that is passionate about sharing God's Word. Press forward! —Janice, Phoenix, AZ

Finding Hope Serendipitously

It's amazing how many of our first-time viewers stumble upon Hope Channel quite by accident while casually channel surfing or when Googling random phrases. This seems to be the case all over the world, regardless of language and culture. Somehow the Holy Spirit hears the whispered yearnings of the searching heart and connects it to Hope Channel. This month we focus on four such first-time viewers from Germany. (To respect the wishes of these viewers, we share with you only the names of their town)

An undertaker for many years, he had questions about sorrow and death for which he never found satisfactory answers. Then one Sunday, while channel surfing, he found Hope Channel Germany. It was a program explaining death. He was so fascinated with the fresh, biblical perspective of the program that he watched the entire episode. He now feels he is better equipped to be of help and comfort to his clients.

—Neubulach, Germany

"I haven't been able to pray for a long time," she says. "When my son died of cancer at 38, I simply could not understand or accept his death." For four years she had nothing to do with God, the church, or her community. But when she found Hope Channel Germany quite by accident, she felt she had found the message to once again open herself to God and His Word. Today she once again lives by faith and trust in God.

—Eulenbis, Germany

In 1968 he stopped going to church. "I couldn't bear watching the power struggles within the church," he recalls. "I walked away and never looked back." Then last year, at the age of 71, he stumbled upon Hope Channel Germany and was surprised to find a community where there was only talk of God and no other agenda. "I am happy that in spite of all these years of walking away from God, He found me again through Hope Channel Germany." Thirsty to learn more, he is quickly going through the Bible study lessons being sent to him.

GO HEALTHY FOR GOOD

If you are a fan of Go Healthy for Good, you'll appreciate all the topics featured in its new season. Acne, peptic ulcers, endometriosis, parenting styles, miscarriages, medical ethics, kidney stones, weight loss, hypertension and back pain are some of the topics. There is even an episode that will address the issue of elderly people having a tendency of falling and hurting themselves.

In addition to all these topics, look for week-long specials on the following topics:

October 29-November 1, Brain Health

December 3-6, Lifestyle Medicine

February 11-14, Longevity

March 18-21, Addictions

GREAT THEMES OF REVELATION

Watch for special programs this season. One special will be Mark Finley's five-part series covering the great themes found in the book of Revelation. Unlike most sermons on Revelation that focus on the fine details of prophecy, this series will focus on the broader strokes and explore God's hand in the bigger picture of salvation. Illustrated with fascinating stories, supported by logical theology, and complemented by the music of Charles Haugabrooks, this will indeed be a special program. ■

CROSS CONNECTION

Jenelle, an avid fan and faithful viewer of Cross Connection says, "A couple years ago I moved and left behind a wonderful group of friends with whom I studied the Bible. Ever since I've been looking for a new group to join, but had no luck. But then came along Cross Connection! I enjoy the fellowship and Bible study with you guys! Love, love, love your program!"

Like Jenelle, our viewers watch Cross Connection because they feel connected with the host and participants and because they learn something new and fascinating in every episode. Through a clear explanation of archeological, historical and theological facts, hosts Oleg and Sergio revolutionize the study of God's Word.

This season they explore the Gospel of John. Look for a new segment, Hidden Treasures, that adds intrigue and takes the discussion beyond the scriptural passage. ■

REAL FAMILY TALK

After a great inaugural season and a Telly Award, Real Family Talk with Willie and Elaine Oliver returns for its second season with fresh new episodes that feature more than 20 guests and continue to discuss relevant issues faced by families today.

“We are pleased to be back on Hope Channel for a second season,” say the Olivers. “As we travel around the world and meet families, it is evident that the topics we address on Real Family Talk are real and relevant. Our hope is that our discussions will give viewers tools and ideas that speak to the questions and issues they face, strengthening their marriages, relationships, and family life.”

SOLDIERS OF DESTINY

Ever wonder what it would be like to be a first century Roman soldier who encounters the great apostle Paul? Or the soldier who meets Peter who doesn't trust him at first, but then becomes his friend? Or the soldier who commits high treason when he acclaims a dying man on a cross to be the Son of God?

even an episode that retells a modern day story of four Army chaplains who gave their life vests to soldiers on a torpedoed ship.

Watch this with your friends, join the discussion at the end, and discover a new way to experience the gospel and the power of God that changes lives.

Soldiers of Destiny is a new program that takes you back to the life of a soldier in biblical times. There's

GOD?

A Fall Special by David Asscherick

If your experiences have riddled your life with questions like these, this special program is for you.

Internationally-renowned speaker, David Asscherick will answer these questions and others. Once a punk rocker, but a Christian since 23, Asscherick will draw from his own life and from God's Word to unravel the mystery, confusion, and pain that is often life.

Why's there pain?
Where's the justice?
What's hell?
What's the point?
Why live?
Why God?

Hope ^{in a} New Name

We love the summer! It's when we meet viewers at camp meetings and conventions. It's when we hear first-hand of how Hope Channel is changing lives. Whether at a campground with tents cascading a mountain top or in a hotel ballroom, we've enjoyed our conversations with our viewers. One of our favorites was with Lorraine and Howard.

Lorraine and Howard were part of a typical church. The members were motivated but the resources were limited. Some miles away was a similar church with motivated, members but limited resources. One day, a thought was born: Why not combine the two churches and share resources and become one big church? So the members took the initiative to prepare a proposal and begin working on plans. Very quickly their idea progressed towards wonderful things such as finding a large space in a high traffic business area for combined worship.

Now that they were together, they needed a new name.

Everyone was asked to make suggestions. Lorraine and Howard gave the name a lot of thought, searching for one that would be appealing and meaningful to everyone. While thinking about this one day, they happened to be sitting at home, watching Hope Channel.

The longer they watched, the more they realized that the name of the channel resonated with them just as much as the programs they watch.

Lorraine and Howard at the Hope Channel exhibit in Gladstone, Oregon

"Hope is something everyone wants to have," Lorraine says. "I went to sleep that night praying that somehow God would help me find a way to use the word hope in the name for our church." When she woke up the next day, she felt the healing peace that comes when all of life is turned over to God's control. With that, the name for her new church was crystal clear: Healing Hope. And everyone in the church loves their new name!

A BETTER WAY TO GIVE

Has the stock market roller coaster taken you for a ride? Are you stressed over the taxes you may owe?

Perhaps the weak state of the economy has you looking for a way to stretch your budget. Look no further.

There is a way to both stretch your budget and give to Hope Channel, the charity you support. Consider the assets in your Individual Retirement Account (IRA).

Ordinary withdrawals from an IRA are subject to federal income tax. However, if you are over the age of 70 1/2, you may instruct your plan administrator to send a Direct IRA Rollover to Hope Channel and completely avoid the federal income tax!! For this reason, IRAs can be a better way to fund a charitable gift this year.

Time is quickly running out. You must act now because only gifts completed by December 31, 2013 will qualify for these tax-savings benefits.

As Congress searches for ways to cut the deficit, this could be your last chance to use your IRA assets for God's work.

Please don't wait. Learn how easy it is to transfer IRA funds to Hope Channel by calling 888-339-PLAN(7526).
