Hope Channel Needs You!

Yes, that's right! We urgently need you to help us during these last months of 2015. To continue growing Hope Channel, we need to raise three million dollars this year.

As a faith ministry, we depend on viewers like you. Thank you for your partnership and financial help in the past. Without your support we simply could not share God's message of grace and salvation to every corner of the globe. Without you, we would not have grown to be the expansive network that we are today—44 channels and 37 languages (see page 4).

Donations this year have been less than previous years. Therefore, your prayers and financial help are critically important. To continue growing we need you.

We live in troubling times—natural disasters, financial crisis, political strife, moral decline, social injustice, and governments influenced by religion. In these end times, more than ever, people are searching for strength to get them through the grind of every day—they are looking for purpose and meaning, for peace and comfort.

Over the years we have been sharing with you stories of people who find Jesus through Hope Channel. Every day we continue to hear from viewers excited about the new life they now—because of the message they hear on Hope Channel, they now live healthier lives, have stronger relationships, and serve their community. And more important, their lives are now guided by the presence of Jesus in their hearts.

God has raised us to be a media ministry to reach more people. But to do this, we need your help. We need new programs, more Internet channels, and greater distribution. With your help we can reach millions more with God's good news.

We need your donations this year more than ever before! Our goal is three million dollars. You have strongly supported Hope Channel in the past and I ask you to prayerfully consider how you can help Hope Channel more this year. Can you give a hundred more than last year? A thousand, maybe? Please pray for this critical need, and give as God impresses you to give.

Yours in the hope of Jesus' soon return!

Brad Thorp
President, Hope Channel

What Viewers are Saying

When I read the beautiful stories of people who find Jesus through Hope Channel, I shout for joy and I praise my heavenly Father. I'm sending you a small donation to help you finish God's work so Jesus can come and take us home to be with Him forever.

—Sent from a prison in the U.S.

Thirsty and hungry for God, I was so blessed to find Hope Channel. You have filled me with inspiration to seek God's will every day.

—Josephine

My wife and I separated nine months ago. I have many problems at work. I am just frustrated with my life. But I'm thankful that Hope Channel helps me stay on track even when my life is falling apart.

—Seth

Just recently I found Hope Channel on DirecTV. Your programs are great. They make all the other Christian channels look uninformed. I am blessed by the truths I learn from you.

—Harold

Hope Channel reaches out and touches people's lives. My life is an example. With the help of Hope Channel, I am able to be optimistic and recognize how good God is to me.

—Mazie

I love your programs. I begin every day with Hope Sabbath School.

—Ann

I am so glad Hope Channel is now on cable television in the Bahamas. I thoroughly enjoy watching your programs.

WE ARE CALLED...

The mission of Hope Channel is to share God's good news for a better life today and for eternity. It is our "ambition to preach the gospel where Christ [is] not known, so those who have not heard will understand" (Rom 15:20–21). In all our programs we strive to reflect the incredible joy and fulfillment that is found in a relationship with Jesus.

Since we began with just one channel in 2003, we have grown into a network of 44 channels broadcasting in 37 languages. And we continually look for innovative ways to tell the story of salvation in different languages and within local cultures.

Called . . . to go. Throughout the history of humankind, there have been barriers to the sharing of God's message—government hostilities, unreceptive cultures, logistical limitations, or religious oppression. Television, however, is usually undeterred by these barriers. Even in countries where the practice of Christianity is illegal, people are watching Hope Channel online or by satellite.

Every time we hear from someone in a country without Bibles or churches, we are reminded of how crucial our television ministry is in the troubled world we live.

Called . . . to love. While our mission is to tell the world about God's offer for salvation, we are just as interested in showing everyone how a relationship with Jesus can result in a balanced, content life on earth. Hope Channel is about meeting the needs of life. We care about the loved one for

CALLED...TO SHARE

SUSIE Illinois

Searching for new resources on child abuse she found the Hope Channel program Real Family Talk on Roku. Intrigued by the balanced life the channel taught, she asked for information about the church's beliefs. And now she wants to join the Seventh-day Adventist Church. "I believe God sent me to you as He began a new work in me," says Susie

JOSH and MARY New York

Their son was dying of cancer. Yet even with death so close, he continued making poor decisions—he had left his wife and child for another woman, he was an alcoholic, he mismanaged the little money he had. In their sadness, Josh and Mary contacted Hope Channel. And Hope Channel staff became their source of strength through that difficult time.

HASSAN The Congo

For years he had violently robbed, raped, and killed many. But one evening, right before confronting some women in front of a church, he felt compelled to listen to the sermon presented by one of Hope Channel's television pastors. Hassan felt God was calling him to a different way of living and surrendered his life to Jesus.

whom you pray every day, for your neighbor who struggles in a broken home, for your co-worker who makes unhealthy life choices, for your friend who is challenged in his faith walk.

With life and its challenges in mind, our programs offer support through prayer, Bible study, principles of healthy living, and answers to questions that may challenge your faith.

Called . . . to disciple. Hope Channel helps people find purpose in the routine of every day, feel God's presence in the darkest hours, and be changed by the power of the Holy Spirit. Viewers tell us of how they found themselves not just in front of the television but at the foot of the cross. When our programs tell the story of God's love—of how Jesus died to give us eternal life—lives are changed. And when people's lives are changed through Jesus, they begin sharing their testimony and new-found faith with their friends and family, inviting everyone they know to experience God's good news for a better life today and for eternity.

Called . . . to partner. You can be part of Hope Channel's ministry and help us reach the world like never before and tell the story of a loving God waiting to take us home.

SERGIO Brazil

His life was perfect on the outside: a beautiful family, a large home, and great influence in town. But on the inside, his family was broken and he was always angry or unhappy. In a final attempt to change things, he prayed, and God led him to Hope Channel. Today Sergio and his family watch Hope Channel together and are a happy, Christian family.

MARK The Caribbean

Trapped in a very private, ever-darkening world of nightclubs, drinking, and affairs, his life was consumed by lies, shame, and guilt. Quickly his private life began to affect his professional and family life. He lost his job as a pilot, his marriage ended, and he was arrested. He had hit rock bottom when he found Hope Channel North America. Today Mark has a new life in Christ.

ANDREW California

He worked long hard hours, and at the end of the day he had no family to go home to. Discouraged and with no hope for a better future, he suffered from depression and insomnia. Every night he lay awake, flipping TV channels. One night he found Hope Channel. About that night, Andrew says, "I knew I had found just what my heart needed."

REVATHY India

Resigned to the bleak future of divorced women in Indian villages, she lived with her parents. She had no job skills, no chance of remarrying, no place in her community. Then life got worse: both her parents died in an accident. Just as she was giving up, Hope Channel workers came knocking on her door. With them they brought Revathy hope for a better life.

FROM A FAN

A couple of days ago I had a dream: I find a box. In this box are pieces of porcelain—they look like pieces of Christmas ornaments. I try connecting all the pieces to form a wreath. All the pieces easily interlock except the last two—the two are stuck together like magnets, but cannot be removed to connect with the rest.

I did not understand the dream, but when I later found Cross Connection on my television, for some reason I remembered my dream and thought maybe this is a connection. I watched and was overwhelmed by your very simple teaching. I cried tears of joy throughout the episode.

I am a widow. Yesterday was six months since my husband died, and I guess I feel like the broken pieces of porcelain—very fragile. Thank you.

I read Rosie's story (hoptv.org/rosie). As tragic as it is, I'm so glad our Lord moved mountains for her and that she is having a much better life.

I was married at 16 and had three children before I was 19. My husband of 45 years was a mean, abusive drunk (but never hurt me when sober).

I found Hope Channel on TV in a hospital waiting room in Orlando as I was waiting for surgeons to stop a brain bleed on my husband. He died.

I am sick with many illnesses and am in and out of the hospital. Could you help me stop smoking? I feel if you helped Rose, you can help me. Please pray for me.

Eight New Channels Inaugurated

by Kandus Thorp

Kandus Thorp, Vice President, International Development, Hope Channel with Ted Wilson, President, Seventh-day Adventist World Church

In a lovely outdoor ceremony this summer, our son Chris married Brittany. And we welcomed another daughter into our family. There's nothing quite like the joy of a growing family. The Hope Channel family is also growing! For years we have prayed for developments in specific areas around the globe. And finally, in a very special inaugural service this summer, eight new channels were officially added to the Hope Channel Network: Korea, Japan, Southeast Asia, New Zealand, Papua New Guinea, Africa, French Americas, and a channel for the Deaf.

Korea | Recently North and South Korea exchanged fire across the border in one of the worst incidents since 2010. Using loudspeakers South Korea was blaring propaganda messages into North Korea. North Korea responded with their own loudspeakers and threats of attacks. But one day, when the time is right, another message will be heard in this part of the world—the message of God's love and grace. Hope Channel Korea is ready for that day.

Japan | “The Japanese have so eagerly embraced everything Western—from fads to philosophies, baseball to scientific method. Why not Christianity? Even China, officially atheist and repressive of anything outside state control, counts 52 million Christians. In South Korea, 30 percent of a population of 50 million professes Christianity. In Japan? Less than 1 percent.”<sup>1</sup> Undeterred by this secularism, Hope Channel Japan is creating shows to specifically target secular, urban youth.

Papua New Guinea | This country was once known for aggressively barring any Christian presence. But today Christianity is its most influential religion. Here people are both hungry for and receptive to God's Word. So Hope Channel Papua New Guinea has positioned itself to be the primary resource for programs that promote a well-balanced Christian lifestyle.

New Zealand | While Christianity in New Zealand goes back to the early nineteenth century with the arrival of missionaries, only about half the population identify themselves as Christians. Hope Channel New Zealand's programming with a emphasis on healthy Christian living aims to reach the other half of the population.

Southeast Asia | Hope Channel Southeast Asia will have sub-channels in the primary languages of the region: English, Mandarin, Thai, Vietnamese, Khmer, Lao, and Tamil. This unique strategy is an efficient method to reach a population with diverse languages and cultures.

Africa | Covering the entire continent of Africa, Hope Channel Africa will transmit programs in major African languages, beginning with Kiswahili and French.

French Americas | Specifically designed for the French speaking people in the Americas who generally have limited television options in their language, Hope Channel French Americas will be meeting the needs of this niche audience.

The Deaf | Hope Channel Deaf will provide a video-on-demand library of subtitled programs. With over 300 million Deaf in the world, this library of resources has great potential.

We are excited about these eight new channels, and can't wait to see what else God has in store for us. Jesus said, “This gospel of the kingdom will be preached in the whole world . . . , and then the end will come (Matt 24:14). The rapid growth of the Hope Channel network is evidence of a God anxious to see everyone hear the story of His love and offer of eternity together. Thank you for your partnership and support that makes all this expansion a reality.
