BLOOMING

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Did you enjoy the Spring flowers this year? I'm always amazed when I see the early green shoots, then the buds, and finally those colorful explosions of breathtaking beauty! We invested in some strawberry plants last year, and they seemed to do well, but there were only a handful of flowers and just one berry. We cut our solitary strawberry in four in order to enjoy it more slowly! But this year, things are different. The strawberry plants are covered with white blooms, and every bloom has fruit potential. I'm already imagining fresh strawberries on my morning cereal and strawberry shortcake for dessert!

It's always exciting to see things blooming—not only flowers, but also ministries! After much hard work and not a few challenges, Hope Channel International, Inc. is blooming! You can read about some of the beautiful blooms in this issue of HopeLink.

Here's one that immediately comes to mind. For some years, we have been talking about a digital interactive Bible study platform where we can offer a variety of amazing courses for our viewers, helping them on their life-changing journey from broadcast to baptism and beyond. That dream has become a reality—our digital interactive Bible study platform is now blooming! Check out the amazing resources available at hope.study. Tens of thousands of viewers are signing up for Bible studies since we launched hope.study earlier this year. The feedback has been really encouraging. Here are just a few responses that bring joy to our hearts:

"I really appreciate the website for teaching me the Bible and I wish to learn more and I'm so happy. May the Almighty God richly bless you." John

"Thank you very much for this Bible study course. I learned many important things about the Bible and loving God." Susanta

"The course is very easy and simple to understand. Praise and thanks to God and the course provider. I pray that God bless the ministry of this course provider in reaching and connecting people worldwide with the Gospel." Sivanarayan

"I am quite astonished by this course. It has explained why I feel the way I feel. I am satisfied with the learning material and process. I have only done the first part, but I am very impressed with the virtual assistant. You have made it very easy to understand. Thank you." Janene

"I can't believe how I learned all of that within a matter of minutes, and absolutely FREE! This kind of experience and knowledge...I'd really felt thankful to everyone who make this possible!" Andra

If you were to ask Justin Woods, our Hope Channel International, Inc. director of digital distribution, if all of the preparatory work was worthwhile, I am certain he would look at you with a smile! Worth all the effort? A thousand times worth all the effort! The ground was prepared, the seeds were planted, and now the flowers are blooming.

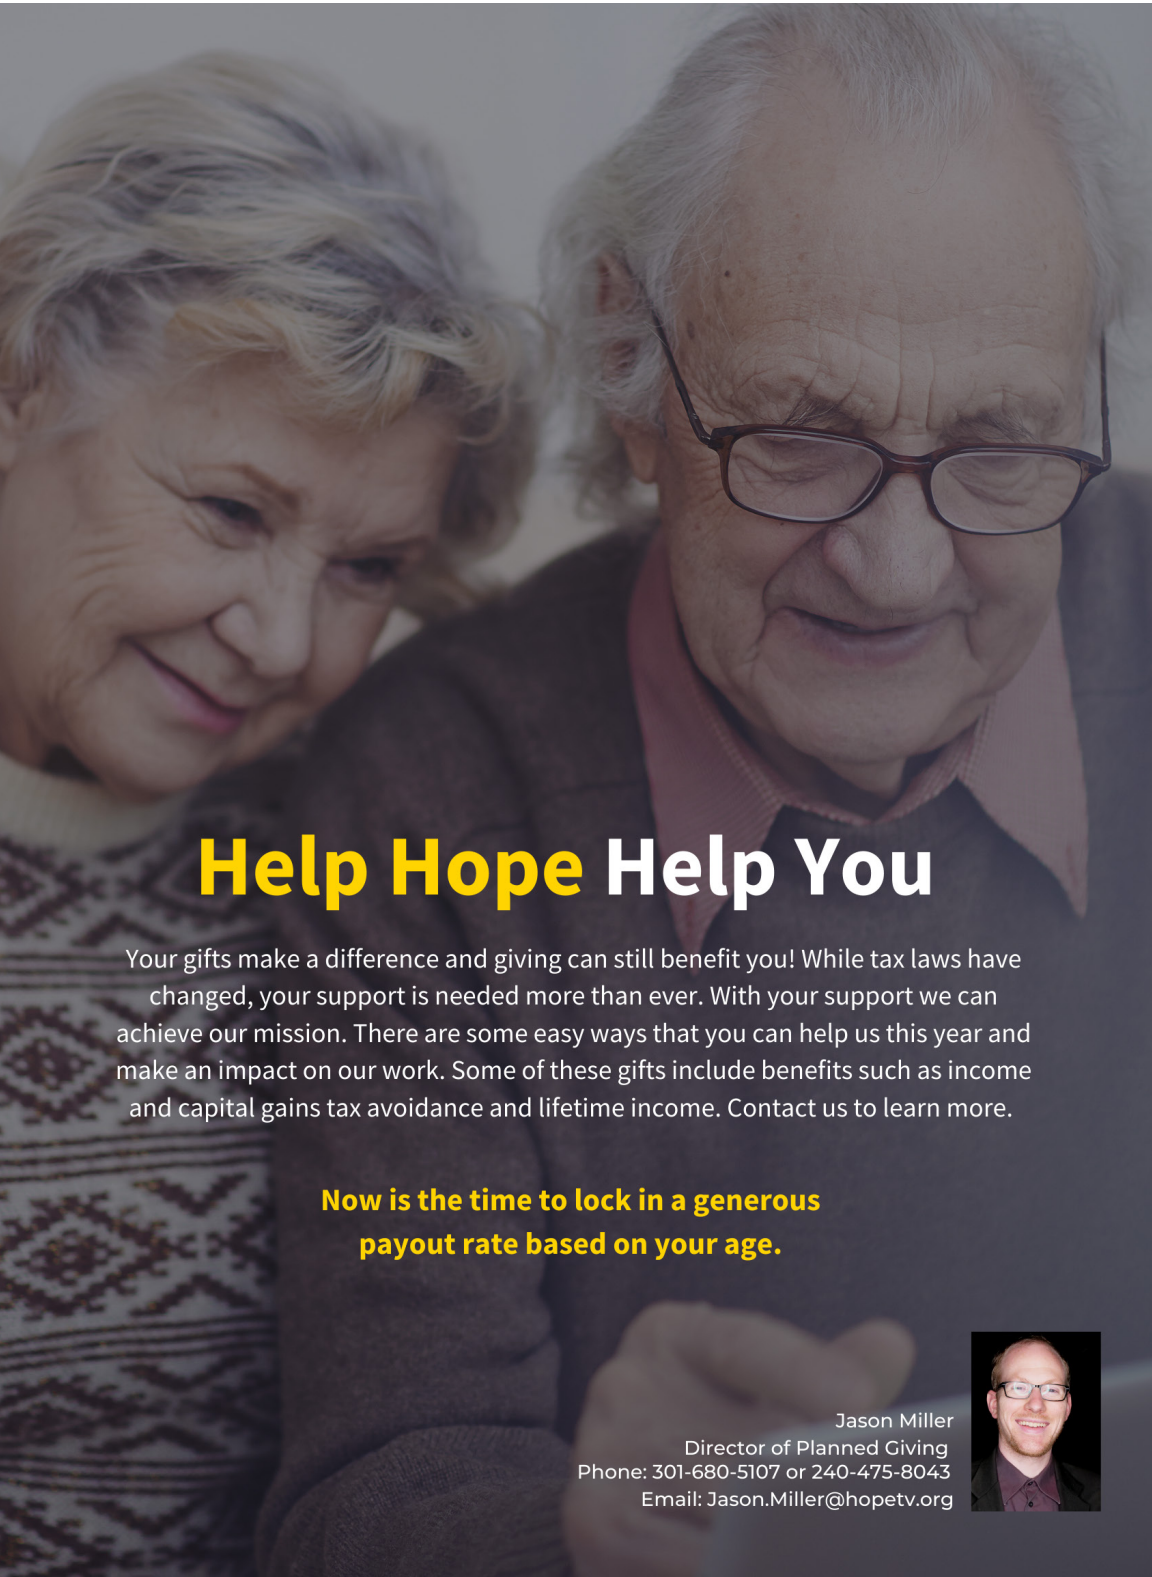

Our global network also continues to grow and bloom. From a humble beginning in 2003, we have grown to 68 channels, broadcasting in more than 80 languages. Our latest blooms include Hope Channel Sri Lanka and Hope Channel Indian Ocean. Hope Channel Sri Lanka has a special mission assignment to almost 22 million inhabitants of their island nation. Buddhism is the state religion of Sri Lanka and it has been given special privileges in the Sri Lankan constitution. Approximately 70 percent of the population identify themselves as Theravada Buddhists, with the remainder divided almost equally among Hindus, Muslims, and Christians. We are thankful that the Sri Lankan constitution currently ensures religious freedom for all of its citizens. In a 2008 Gallop poll, Sri Lanka was identified as one of the most religious countries in the world, with 99 percent of its inhabitants stating that religion is an important part of their daily life.<sup>1</sup> Please pray for Hope Channel Sri Lanka as they use media to conduct evangelistic outreach in their territory.

We also solicit your prayers for our latest bloom, Hope Channel Indian Ocean. Based in Madagascar, Hope Channel Indian Ocean will serve the islands of Madagascar, Mauritius, Mayotte, Réunion, Rodrigues, Comoros, and Seychelles. This channel will concentrate on French-language programming, sharing God's Good News for a better life today and for eternity with a combined population approaching 30 million precious souls.

We are rejoicing in the soon return of Jesus and trusting His promise that "this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the world as a witness to all the nations, and then the end will come" (Matthew 24:14 NKJV). While we wait with joyful expectation, we have a work to do. I'm reminded of the old Gospel song composed by James Oren Thompson in 1885: "Lord of harvest, send forth reapers, here us Lord, to Thee we cry; send them now the sheaves to gather, ere the harvest time pass by."

Hope Sabbath School isn't only an in-depth, interactive study of the Word of God, but an interactive space for our viewers to share their thoughts with us. Every week, we ask a question on social media related to that week's lesson and the responses we receive are not only inspiring, but take the lessons to even greater depth and life.

Question: What are some reasons you have for praising the name of the Lord today?

“His beauty, love, grace, provision, protection, salvation, redemption, faithfulness, kindness are what I’m thankful for today and always.”
-Melissa E.

“For His daily provision, grace through health challenges, guidance and mercy to my family.”
-Edith Ruth Hughes

“Life now and the gift of Salvation.”
-Alexandra M.

“For surviving the COVID-19 virus ... entering the hospital after finding out that I had it, for some reason I felt at peace and knew that God will always be there for me!” -Dorothy B.

“He kept me safe as I slept last night. He woke me up this morning. He understands me. He loves ALL of us!! He cares about the small things too.”
-Cecelia B.

“God loves and cares for me everyday! Jesus died for all! He is coming very soon to take us to live with Him!”-Hilda S.

“I thank God for His love so much, that He gives grace for every trial and situation that I face.”-Pansie V.

“His patience and that He never gives up on us or abandons us.”
-Jason S.

“Being my everything. God is my all and all. We give praises to His Name! Blessings.” - Velma H.

“For Life, for His Mercies and Grace, for His Everlasting Love, for Health, Family and Friends.” - Jennifer W.

INSIDE HOPE CHANNEL

BY DEREK MORRIS, PRESIDENT OF HOPE CHANNEL INTERNATIONAL, INC.

As I walked into the Forest Lake Church lobby after the morning services, my friend John approached me: “Pastor Derek, God wants you to speak to the world!” “How is that going to happen, John?” I replied. “I don’t know but get ready!”

Within a year we were broadcasting worldwide on Hope Channel. Our partnership started with a class on the Life and Teachings of Jesus. Then Brad Thorp, founding President of Hope Channel, invited me to start a Sabbath School class. I accepted with a few conditions: it needed to be interactive, with young-adult participants, and the team needed to look like the world! In the Fall of 2007, with the active support of my wife and a group of dedicated young adults, Hope Sabbath School was born! God blessed in supernatural ways as we depended wholly on Him. Within four years, Hope Sabbath School was the most broadcast program worldwide on Hope Channel!

I remember the day my wife Bodil startled me with these words: “Hope Sabbath School is the most important thing you do!” I tried to explain my numerous responsibilities, pastoring a church with over 3,000 members, five worship services, and numerous ministries. She wasn’t convinced! “Where else do you give a million Bible studies per week?” Her words shocked me. She was right. Teaching an in-depth interactive study of the Word of God on Hope Channel was indeed the most important thing I was doing.

Then we faced what seemed like an insurmountable challenge. We were invited to leave Forest Lake Church and assume new responsibilities as Editor of MINISTRY, an international journal for pastors. That new position involved a move to Maryland, leaving our dedicated team of Hope Sabbath School volunteers behind. “You can’t stop now,” Thorp told us. “If you build a new team, we’ll provide the studio and the technical support.” At this crossroads, my wife impressed me with this declaration: “It took a miracle to start Hope Sabbath School and it will take another miracle to restart it!” And that’s exactly what God did!

After serving as a Hope Channel volunteer for almost nine years, my life took an unexpected turn. It was April 11, 2016. I was invited to assume broader responsibilities as President of Hope Channel, a global television network with 42 channels! My first thought was to respectfully decline, but God made it abundantly clear to me and to my wife that He was directing our steps. That was five years ago, and though we have faced many challenging times, we have seen God work in miraculous ways. Today, Hope Channel International, Inc. oversees a global network of 68 channels, broadcasting in more than 80 languages. We have reorganized into two major divisions: television distribution and digital distribution. Tens of thousands of viewers are signing up for Bible studies, and thousands are experiencing transformation through a personal relationship with Christ as Savior and Lord.

In addition to my work as President of Hope Channel International, Inc., I continue to serve as the volunteer host for Hope Sabbath School—it’s not part of my job description, but it’s still the most important thing I do!

Hope Channel Studio Increases Production With Digital Backgrounds

AN INTERVIEW WITH RUSS MOULDER, DIRECTOR OF STUDIO SERVICES

Can you explain what the digital backgrounds are?

Digital backgrounds are a photo or a digital image which can be placed or projected behind someone to give an illusion that they are in front of any location or scenery needed.

How did the idea to switch to digital backgrounds come about?

The idea of digital backgrounds has been around and used at Hope Channel since its existence in 2004.

One of the first shows I directed was Adventist Mission, which was fully digital. There was a digital background for each camera angle, and the host and guests were sitting in front of a green screen.

What is the process of making digital backgrounds?

Digital backgrounds can be generated from a 3D design software where a designer will create a room, and then render out an image for us to use.

Also, we can take a photo or video of a nice room which is staged to look like a television set and use the image.

When we find a designer, the process can take several weeks to design and there will be some suggestions made by the producer of the brand to be sure they are completely happy with the look that will best connect with the viewer.

What benefits have you seen since using digital backgrounds?

The major benefit of using digital backgrounds is we don't need to fully build a set from wood and other physical building materials. The gained results are in the form of resources, specifically time and money. Now we leave a small area in the studio always setup for greenscreens or digital backgrounds so that many productions won't require a set to be built or lighting to be set up and tweaked. We can even do this with hosts that present right from their own home.

How do you think this will improve Hope Channel's studio services?

Digital backgrounds allow studio services to increase the amount of production because we spend less time moving physical sets in and out each week as well as changing the lighting each time.

How will it be incorporated into future brands?

We are moving to a new larger digital video wall which will improve the look and allow more flexibility in production. When a brand decides to go digital, the development costs of set design will be lower and the time it takes to create the backgrounds can take weeks instead of months. One of the newest shows that incorporates the digital background is Staycation Bible School, a program that distills the Vacation Bible School experience that takes place in local churches with speedy and engaging lessons for children ages 6-11. Kids experience active exercises, animated Bible stories, and fun numeric facts, all under the umbrella of two realities: that they are valued and loved by God.

What excites you the most about this new development?

Digital backgrounds are a very efficient way to create content and it allows us to get that fresh content into the hands and homes of viewers much more quickly. Also, it allows us to build better and larger sets without increasing the cost.

An Abundance of Azaleas

Sarah Fonseca, fundraising coordinator

The azaleas bloomed like never before! My husband and I marveled at the beauty of all the little flowers that filled our once-dull shrub. I must confess I do not have a talent for gardening, but, thankfully, my husband took a little extra care with the azaleas this year by trimming the branches and adding some fertilizer—the result was an abundance of flowers.

Jesus illustrates that God is the Gardener in our lives. He is the vine, and you and I are the branches (John 15:1-17). Jesus tells His disciples, “Remain in me, as I also remain in you. No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in me” (John 15:4 NIV).

Thankfully, our fruitfulness is not dependent on our “green thumbs,” but on God’s grace. With God’s careful—yet sometimes painful—pruning, we are strengthened. By spending quality time with Jesus through daily prayer, worship, and reading the Word of God, we establish a living connection that will transform our lives.

Hope Channel provides a place that nurtures and cultivates this vital connection with our Lord and Savior. Through Bible-based programming, digital platforms, prayer, physical and mental health discussions, and online Bible courses, Hope Channel is leading people into a deeper relationship with Jesus.

Like the little extra added care given to the azaleas, your gifts help nourish and strengthen this relationship that will produce an abundance of fruit.

Mina is grateful for this nourishment. She found Hope Channel a little over two years ago on DirecTV. She cannot believe how much she has learned about the Bible in that time. She exclaims, “My Bible finally looks lived in!”

The Hope Sabbath School interactive, in-depth Bible studies have helped her better understand scripture. Learning through gospel-centered media about the amazing life of Jesus and His unfailing love is deepening her personal relationship with Jesus.

“How valuable Hope Channel is to me, and how much I love the Hope Sabbath School lessons! Hope Channel is making a big difference,” says Mina. “Believe me, I change for the better with each episode as I follow along making notes each day!”

Mina’s life-changing experience is possible because of our generous donors. Your continued support, especially as a Sustaining Partner, helps provide the necessary funds that enable Hope Channel to continue producing programs that draw viewers closer to God and strengthen their faith.

Your support has made a difference in Runni’s life. “All my life, I have been trying to find happiness, and Hope Channel gave me a new perspective of what that is. I want Jesus to lead the way, and He’s been doing that,” says Runni from Nigeria.

Since adding Hope Channel to his DISH Network three years ago, Runni watches Hope Channel and “nothing else.” He uses the Hope Channel app to help him stay connected and up to date on all the new programs.

Today Runni leads Sabbath School at his local church and puts into practice what he has learned from Hope Channel.

As a matter of fact, he was even told by a friend that he delivers Sabbath School lessons just like Pastor Derek.

Runni adds, “Hope Channel creates a place for me to trust God in my personal struggles of life.” That is what Hope Channel is all about—helping people find freedom, hope, and healing in Jesus through Bible-based media.

Your support, combined with God’s love, is transforming lives. “Hope Sabbath School has really done great work in my life,” says Sewankambo from Uganda. “With every study, I feel myself there learning in person. The way the program relates scriptures to different stories in the Bible has helped me to memorize and understand deeply.” This change is so great that not even his own Sabbath School classmates recognize him anymore, because of the profound knowledge of the Bible that he brings to the discussions.

More than ever, people have a desire to learn about God. Your support can help them know Him personally. Programs like Let’s Pray, Hope Sabbath School, Bible HelpDesk, Inverse and many more are fortifying viewers’ connection to Jesus.

Hope Channel is reaching millions of people on 68 international channels around the globe. With your help, we can reach the unreached with the gospel. Choose today to enrich God’s branches so they remain strong in Jesus.

When that new day comes, we can marvel at the beauty of the abundance of azaleas that blossomed for Christ. Thank you for your added care.

Hope Channel Reaches the World

at First-Ever Adventist Virtual Global Campmeeting

By Maharani Lumban-Gaol

“Jesus is coming soon. We need to prepare our hearts and minds to serve the Lord. It’s time to raise up our banners and say, ‘Here am I Lord, send me,’” Pastor Ted N.C. Wilson emphatically proclaimed during the opening of the 2021 Adventist Virtual Global Campmeeting. Who would have thought that we would be experiencing the very first online campmeeting? Instead of hearing a room full of amens and praises, chat rooms and zooms filled up with typed responses and affirmations.

From May 19 to May 23, thousands came together to worship, be inspired, and learn. Attendees had the opportunity to explore Seventh-day Adventist ministries from around the world and gain insight, resources, and information to help fulfill the mission to answer God’s calling to go and share the gospel to the end of the world. There were 129,837 total registrants with 95 countries represented. “It was exciting to see thousands of attendees from across the globe converging for spiritual blessings at our first Adventist Virtual Global Campmeeting,” says Derek Morris, president of Hope Channel International. There were hundreds of presentations, seminars, and workshops on subjects like discipleship, education, health ministries, media, missions, and theology. “Whether you were a division president or a youth leader for a local church, there was something for everyone,” says Elizabeth Camps, director of marketing.

This was evident with the seminars presented by the Hope Channel speakers. Dr. Nerida Mckibben and Vicky Griffin spoke regarding health and mission. Dr. Nerida discussed how to use health principles as an entry point to learning about Jesus, and Vicky Griffin shared how to find freedom from addiction through bible teachings. With addiction being a prevalent issue today, this seminar offered invaluable information to overcome addiction at its root. Viewers can use this knowledge to minister to their family and friends that might be struggling with addiction.

Chris Holland, senior evangelist, focused on mission and outreach and shared how to use Hope.Study, the online Bible Study platform, and Hope Channel app for personal evangelism. “The Hope Channel is not just a broadcast channel...it is a personal evangelism resource center to help you and make it easy for you to talk to your friends about faith and about God,” he shared during his seminar. The online bible study courses range from answering life’s toughest questions like why there is pain and suffering, how to trust the Bible, what to do when you feel like giving up, and many more. He demonstrated that these friendly and approachable courses are a great way to introduce Biblical concepts to others.

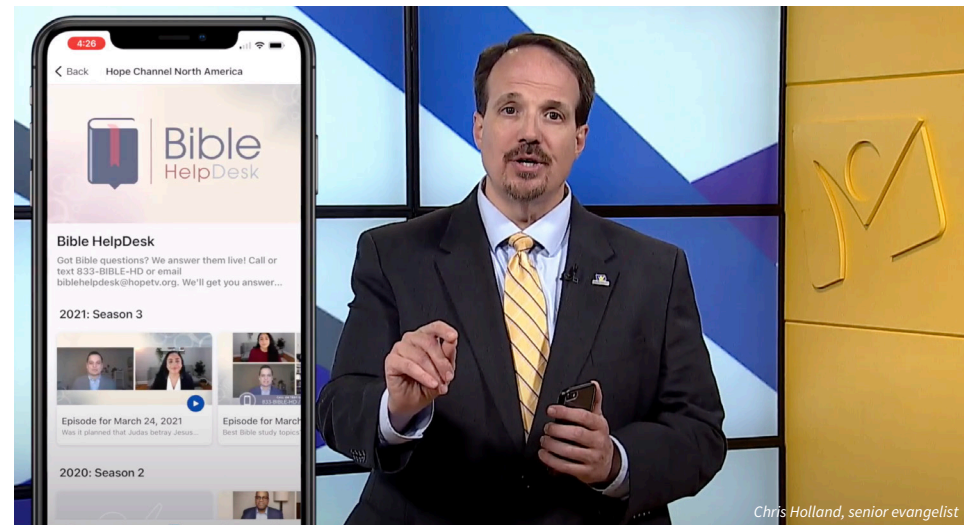

Another speaker was Pavel Goia, Ministry Magazine editor, who focused on prayer and how it can be used as an outreach tool. Over 500 attendees learned how a prayer community can have an influential effect.

In the media ministry track, Philip Mathew, director of analytics and innovation, shared about Mission Passport, an invaluable and exciting development that can help media ministries stay laser focused on their mission. “Mission Passport is a service tool that will assist Hope Channel and the Adventist global church focus on the mission,” he shared during his presentation. Using a familiar analogy, Philip discussed how “it is a tool that helps us understand what type of fish we want to catch, in what waters, with the resources God has given us.”

Another technological and educational seminar was presented by Justin Woods, director of digital distribution, who shared tools for mission in the digital era with our Hope Channel app and online Bible Study platform. “The Hope Channel app is an essential tool for ministry in the digital era,” shared Justin. “Maybe you’re not comfortable giving a Bible study. You can still minister to those around you by sharing the Hope Channel app with them.” Even sharing the Hope.Study link is an outreach opportunity. Through this platform, more than 40,000 people started courses in the first few weeks of its inception. Currently, more than 3,000 people per day are signing up for courses. This rapid growth is evidence that people are searching for answers and these tools are a gateway to them.

One target group that especially is a mission focus is our children and youth. Sam Neves, director of communications for the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, gave a presentation on the Bible Heroes app game and how it is used to reach this demographic. In a fun segment of the campmeeting, there was a Heroes II Bible Trivia Game World Championship. “I was privileged to oversee the semi-finals!” exclaimed Derek Morris. “What a great way to learn more about the Bible!”

Philip Mathew, director of analytics & innovation

President Derek Morris was one of the plenary speakers and his presentation titled “How Should We Go?” was in response to the theme I Will Go. He shared three important lessons on how we should go. First, with a spirit of humility that is totally dependent on Jesus. Second, with the Holy Spirit that empowers and guides our mission, and lastly, with joyful anticipation, confident that God will work in miraculous ways. Through his plenary session, attendees were inspired to respond to the call of Jesus to share the Gospel message with the whole world.

It was a privilege to have hosts from two of our programs present timely messages that were spiritually-invigorating. Lonnie Melashenko, current speaker of Hope Talks, shared how to face fear, calamity, and disasters. Cliff Goldstein shared a message about the thief on the cross. “Salvation is not about justice, it’s not about merit...it’s not about worth—it’s about God giving us what we don’t deserve,” said Cliff enthusiastically. These lessons lingered on the minds of viewers, reminding them there is a God who deeply cares and loves them.

“Hope Channel strives every day to simply share the love of Jesus with as many people as we can, and I hope those who visited our booth sensed that,” says

Elizabeth Camps, director of marketing. “We want to equip those looking for a way to share Jesus with their neighbor. We want to make learning about Jesus as accessible and simple as possible.”

As the second most-visited booth with 7,796 total visits, Hope Channel did just that! At our booth, attendees learned about various events like Study Tours and Celebration of Hope, and were given support resources like Derek Morris’ book, Radical Evidence which garnered 384 unique visits. Reflecting on the event, Sarah Fonseca, fundraising coordinator says, “I hope attendees left with an understanding of Hope Channel’s mission and left with a better understanding of the importance of digital evangelism in today’s society.” This year has resulted in many adjustments and unusual circumstances, but despite that, the Adventist Virtual Global Campmeeting was definitely a spiritual highlight.

Just as Pastor Ted N.C. Wilson urged us to raise our banners and say, “Here I am, send me,” attendees could not help but be compelled to answer that call.

Derek Morris, President of Hope Channel International, Inc.

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE PRODUCER OF:

STAYCATION

Bible School

Rico Hill

What is Staycation Bible School?

Staycation Bible School is a character-driven puppet show for 6 to 11-year-old kids, featuring human hosts who play multiple roles, including school administrator, librarian and teachers. The show was first conceptualized prior to the COVID-19 restrictions which caused the entire world to “staycation” and have virtual classes. Now, since COVID, this show is appropriate and timely on so many fronts. Since there are so many options in the kid’s programming space, we elected to go with a hyper-realistic world where very little seems normal, with the exception of the every-day issues that confront kids at this stage of life.

What inspired you to create this program?

I actually didn’t create the show. Elroy Byam (producer and voice talent for several of the male puppets) conceived of the idea prior to my time with Hope Channel. I merely took a great concept and developed it further as a performed-based, character-driven program similar to what kids find on network television.

What was the filming process for this program?

I’m glad that the question is specific to filming this program, as we usually tape programs for television. But we actually film Staycation Bible School, which is amazing as it is a major visual, stylized departure from the norm. Because we set out to produce a program that would appeal to a 6-11-year-old, secular demographic, we infused the show with comedy, bright colors and interesting characters. So, there’s lots of laughter on the set as we create and bring this world to life.

How does this program differ from other kid’s programs out there?

First, I’ll distinguish it from secular television. What makes this program different from other kid programs seen on cable or network television is that while we offer the same four main ingredients (color, characters, comedy and conflict) that attract children in this age group, we weave in the Bible and the gospel as a spiritual foundation for the program. So, kids will watch because they like a character or may enjoy funny situations, but they’ll always learn about Jesus and the Bible. And that sets the program apart, at least from secular television. As far as other Christian kid programs, we incorporate our unique Bible doctrines in a kid-friendly way, be it the state of the dead, baptism by immersion or the truth about hell fire.

Do you have a favorite character and if so, why?

So far, I have two favorite characters (it’s hard to choose just one): Ernesto and Noah. They are my favorites. Ernesto because he makes script-writing easier. He is the comic relief throughout every episode. He’s not dumb, but he rarely gets the lessons the first or second or third time, which allows us organically to have fun with him while at the same time reinforcing the lesson without being preachy. And Noah is also a favorite because he is so selfish. We purposely wanted to create characters who have real, kid foibles like greed, selfishness, self-centeredness, etc. This was important so that we could apply the gospel solution to real, human issues. Noah’s selfishness rears its head in just about every episode. Again, this helps in our writing as we seek to create real characters with real problems to apply real Bible answers.

What do you hope children will learn from this program?

It is my hope that children will learn about themselves. Kids will do this as they see themselves in the archetypal puppet characters who constantly create tension throughout their day. And by observing how these flawed kid puppets navigate through these universal relational conflicts at Staycation Bible School, they will learn how they too can more effectively maneuver through life with Jesus and the Bible as their guide.
